Cultivate a person-centered, inclusive environment by recognizing and actively addressing our implicit biases.

Respect patient autonomy through empathy and shared decision-making.

Advocate for our patients and acknowledge the impact of social determinants of health.

Build trust with our patients by demonstrating a balance of social, cultural, and professional competencies.

Support our patients and colleagues through interprofessional collaboration.

Honor those who came before us and those who have and will continue to support our journey.

By embodying these tenets, we will commit ourselves to a life that will bring honor to our profession, and above all, do no harm.
